MELBOURNE'S RezFest 08 Christian music festival reached a thrilling climax tonight with a powerful performance by US headliners Jars Of Clay. The festival's main stage was hailed as a great success by many of the 3000 people who attended the inaugural festival to enjoy performances from newsboys, Alabaster Box, Planetshakers, Compliments of Gus and several Victorian acts. Staged at the Point Cook Homestead, the two day festival also engaged the community who appreciated the wide range of acts on offer on the Fringe Stage. The event was organised by the Wyndham City Council in association with the Wyndham Ministers Network. Interestingly, RezFest 08 attracted more people to this year's event than the earlier Sonfest and Jam festivals which boasted large numbers of international performers.

FORMER PC3 mainstay Paul Colman will present three solo concerts in Australia while touring with Newsboys this week. The concerts will be a mix of Paul's best known songs (Gloria, Holding Onto You, Your Sweet Voice, The Killing Tree and Fill My Cup) plus his trademark comedic story telling. Paul says that the great thing about performing on your own with an acoustic guitar is that you can do anything! "I'm gonna do two hours every night, sing around 20 songs, chat a little bit about some stories. Kinda keeping the night light, but with substance," he states.

Paul performs in:

- o Melbourne at the C3 Centre, Vermont 7PM on 28 March,
- o Sydney at the Dural Baptist Church 6PM on 30 March,
- o Brisbane at the Princess Theatre, Woolloongabba, 7:30PM on 31 March

AUDIO ADRENALINE will headline Easterfest 09 in Toowoomba, Australia for a reunion concert. The American group, one of the most successful in CCM, retired from active music ministry a little over a year ago selling more than three million records and scoring two Grammy® Awards, and multiple Dove awards. Easterfest CEO Isaac Moody says to secure the band for the worldwide exclusive reunion concert is a "real coup" for Australia's premier Easter event.
