MOVIE ROLE FOR RSJ

Rebecca St James has scored a supporting role in a new faith and family film to be shot in the USA.

And it seems Rebecca was the natural choice for the unnamed movie as she's playing the role of an Aussie.

"My character's name is Annie," Rebecca told TRAA.

"[To prepare for the role], I've been living in her shoes to a certain degree each day.

"Annie's an Aussie who's hitch-hiking across America. I don't think I'll actually be hitch hiking," she quips.

Rebecca first broke her news on Facebook.

MICHELLE TUMES SCORES SONG IN DISNEY'S TINKER BELL

Talking about movies, Aussie singer songwriter Michelle Tumes has penned a song for the new Disney movie Tinker Bell. Michelle wrote the song Fly To Your Heart for Selena Gomez.

In the 1953 Disney classic, Tinker Bell played second fiddle to Peter Pan and Captain Hook, but now the beloved fairy gets top billing - and a speaking role - with this new animated adventure.

Today, Michelle writes and records songs in LA for herself and other artists. She recently gained success on The Rock Across Australia chart with Domine, Let It Rain and Introit from her self titled album. CCM Magazine called it the 'comeback album of 2007'.

Sparrow has recently released a new greatest hits collection of her music.

Tinker Bell releases straight to DVD this week.

EASTERFEST'S FIRST HEADLINERS ANNOUNCED

Finally, Australia's largest Easter event - Easterfest - this month reveals the names of the performers coming to the Toowoomba festival next year.

In the past week, organisers have announced that Thousand Foot Krutch, Disciple and Fatis Valor are among the headliners for the three day event.

Thousand Foot Krutch is a Canadian band that has recorded five albums including The Flame In All Of Us that spawned the hit song Wish You Well.

Disciple is a five piece hard rock outfit from the US whose song In The Middle Of Now is used on WWE's Smackdown to introduce wrestlers Curt Hawkins and Zach Ryder.

And Brisbane indie act Fatis Valor best known for backing Matt Corby on the Australian Idol Winners Journey Tour earlier this year.

More acts will be released over the next fortnight.
